INTERIOR DESIGN

Spring has sprung! We'd like to share a few creative collaborations that have brought new energy to our recent projects. Working with and supporting bespoke studios has allowed us to provide our clients with distinctive additions to their spaces. We are privileged to work with clients who appreciate quality craftsmanship and value the unique contributions artisans make in bringing exceptional interiors to life.

Christophe Côme

When we decided to feature a one of a kind cabinet in our client's farmhouse, we knew we had to enlist Christophe Côme to create it for us. Despite the challenges of working through a pandemic, his Paris workshop designed and produced this intricate metal and glass cabinet in seven months time.

MHG Studio

MHG Studio is our go-to for all things leather. Our challenge was to replicate our client's Adnet 1950's bamboo and leather wall sconces. MHG executed multiple pairs authentically down to sourcing the exact type of bamboo that was used in the originals. Pictured here is custom wall upholstery in a Robert Kime fabric by Jouffre, another one of our valuable creative partners.

Christina Z Antonio

Multi-disciplinary artist and designer, Christina Z Antonio uses diverse materials to create pieces that are refined and unique. She produced a pair of nightstands for our latest project comprised of embossed leather detailing, bronze and stone knobs and recessed quartz top. The stunning cabinet is set against a custom headboard designed by Aamir Khandwala Interior Design and fabricated by Jouffre. The custom ceramic table lamps are by Coco Bolo.

Who says you can't take an existing bathroom and make it an office?!

Our most fruitful creative collaborations are of course with our clients. We were intrigued by our client's idea of converting a bathroom into a home office and we jumped at the challenge of bringing it to life. Leone Construction, Edudeco and Alt for Living helped us achieve this sophisticated and luxurious transformation.

With Warmest Regards,
